Lake County Jail Hosts Bill Glass Day of Champions

On June 28, 2014 the Lake County Jail hosted the Bill Glass Day of Champions. This was the fifth year the Lake County Jail hosted this event. Volunteers, religious, and motivational speakers visited the Lake County Jail to encourage inmates to strive towards goals in their life. There were a total of five coordinators, five champions, and 38 Bill Glass volunteers for the event.

This year's champions included Jason Carthen, OG Castaneda, Caleb Crevier, Tanya Crevier, and Paul Wrenn.

Jason Earthen, a former professional football player with the New England Patriots, earned a Master's Degree in Christian Leadership and a Ph.D. in Organizational Leadership. He is an international speaker on business, leadership, positive psychology, and helping people identify their purpose in life. He is a visionary with heart and passion for social issues that impact our world.

OG Castaneda is an ex-gang member and was addicted to drugs. He ran from religion while experiencing life crises and became homeless. His belief in religion is helping him restore his life and family.

Caleb Crevier graduated from South Dakota State University. He and his family "Champions Forever" recently performed on "Americans Got Talent." He has also performed his Spin-Tacular Basketball Show in schools, prisons, and half time shows throughout the United States and over 20 other countries.

Tanya Crevier played high school, college, and professional basketball. She was inducted into the South Dakota Sports Hall of Fame and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes Hall of Champions. Tanya is known as the "Best Female Basketball Handler."

Paul Wrenn is a 28 time National Powerlifting Champion and 17 time World Powerlifting Champion. He is the 2013 National and World Masters Champion and in 2013 was inducted into the Amateur Athletic Union Powerlifting Hall of Fame. He has been in thousands of Bill Glass Champions for Life Events and travels all over the world doing feasts of strength.
